

Bradwell Mothers' Union:

January 2019

The first meeting of the year was very well attended with 27 members and friends coming together on a gloomy January afternoon. The light of Christ being shown to the world at Epiphany was celebrated in the story of the wise men visiting the young Jesus.

As it was the start of the year the Treasurer, Pam Angel, presented the financial report and thanked people for their generous giving over the past year. Caroline Kinchin Smith presented the Secretary's annual report, and Doreen Hall was re-elected unanimously as Branch Leader for Bradwell Mothers' Union.

This was followed by a chance to exercise gently all the muscles which had not done very much over Christmas. Jean Smith led a series of armchair exercises to music and concluded by reading a funny version of 'The Night before Christmas' on the theme of over-indulgence! It was much enjoyed.

Next month the meeting is on 7th February and Caroline Kinchin Smith will be demonstrating her spinning wheel and talking about 'Spinning a Yarn'. The meeting is at 2.30pm and all are most welcome.
